Meet RT. Honourable P. J. Patterson one of JSE featured speaker for the 2006 regional conference.

• Percival James Patterson was first appointed Prime Minister of Jamaica in March 1992, after his election as President of the People's National Party, following the retirement of former Prime Minister, the late Michael Manley. He returned to Office following the national elections held in 1993 March 30, and became the first Jamaican Prime Minister to be sworn-in for a third consecutive time, after he led the PNP to an unprecedented third term victory in the elections of 1997 December 18. Mr. Patterson's ascension to the Office of the Prime Minister was a fitting culmination of over 20 years of distinguished service to the State, including the holding of various senior Cabinet positions. He graduated from the University of the West Indies, Mona in 1958 with a Bachelor of Arts Degree (Honours) in English. He studied Law at the London School of Economics (LSE), graduating in 1963 with a Bachelor of Laws Degree. He was awarded the Sir Hughes Parry Prize for Excellence in the Law of Contract and also won a Leverhulme Scholarship while at the LSE. He was called to the Bar at Middle Temple in 1963 and admitted to the Jamaican Bar later that year. Mr. Patterson was appointed a Queen's Counsel in 1984. His political service began in 1958, when he joined the People's National Party. In that year he became Party Organizer, moving to membership on the National and Party Executive Councils in 1964. He was elected a Vice President of the party in 1969 and served as Party Chairman from 1983 until he became President and Party Leader in 1992. Prime Minister Patterson's vision for Jamaica is one in which "we build a land of opportunity and prepare for a brand new world in which every citizen - man, woman and child - shares a sense of self-esteem and personal stake holding in a modern, prosperous and truly enlightened Jamaica." As Prime Minister, he has spearheaded Jamaica's cessation of an 18-year borrowing relationship with the International Monetary Fund (IMF), effectively creating the platform for Jamaica to once again exert control over its economic affairs. Prime Minister Patterson is the recipient of several international awards. He was appointed to the Privy Council of the United Kingdom in 1992. Prime Minister Patterson has also been bestowed with academic awards by tertiary institutions worldwide. These include the Honorary Doctor of Letters, North Eastern University, USA (1994); and the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws from Brown University, USA (1998). Mr. Patterson belongs to the Baptist denomination. His interests include jazz, Jamaican music and such spectator sports as cricket, boxing, tennis and track and field. He has a son, daughter and a grand-daughter.
