CHAIRMAN

PRESIDENT & CEO

Our Performance

We are pleased to report on the activities of your company for the financial year 2005. For the fifth consecutive year, Pan Caribbean has reported record consolidated profits with Net Income of $1.032 Billion, an increase of 23%. Earnings per share grew from $1.84 to $1.92, representing an improvement of 4% 2004.

2005 was marked by a number of important achievements by our team and we report on the following accomplishments:

- Profit after Taxation crossed the Billion Dollar threshold for the first time
- Shareholders Equity climbed above $6 Billion, another important milestone
- Resumption of dividends - $236 Million represents a 23% payout of Net Income
- Sigma Optima® and Sigma Solution® were top-ranked again in 2005
- We diversified our funding – our liability portfolio was reduced from 60% to 40% institutional
- Our brand identity and equity further strengthened with a 31% positive unaided recall

During the first quarter of 2005, Pan Caribbean formally became a subsidiary of Life of Jamaica, and ultimately Sagicor Financial Corporation. We warmly welcome Dodridge Miller, Patricia Downes-Grant and Jeffrey Cobham to the Board as Sagicor representatives.

On June 1, 2005, we sold a 75% interest in Manufacturers Credit & Information Services Limited to Jamaica National Building Society for $66 Million. We retained an important 25% stake in the company, as we expect the majority stake divestment to extract value through our new partner's ability to expand MCIS's products, services and Caribbean reach with advanced technology.

Our Economy and its Future

The Jamaican economy's performance in 2005 was mixed. Several indicators trended positively or were relatively stable. We noted that:

- Interest rates declined with the 6-month T-Bill yield falling from 14.9% to 13.6%
- The currency remained stable, closing the year at $64.58 (a 4.8% depreciation)
- The fiscal deficit continued to shrink despite the target of a balanced budget being missed
- The NIR rose 12% to $2.09 Billion
- The country easily accessed the international capital markets three times, raising US$750 Million
- GDP growth inched up, crawling from 0.9% to 1.8%

Notwithstanding these positive signals, the stock market declined 9.7%, our balance of payments worsened, inflation remained in double digits for the third consecutive year and crime and security issues remained the overwhelming national concern. Inflation fell from 13.7% to 12.9% but higher taxation and rising prices sapped consumers' energy.

In 2005, Jamaica began to realize an acceleration of the long-anticipated foreign direct investment flows in mining and tourism. These positives are welcome counter-balances to the challenges presented by our debt to GDP ratio and balance of payments performance.

>> Statement from the Chairman & the President (Cont'd)

Jamaican businesses continue to operate in a fragile environment. Despite double-digit inflation, a missed fiscal deficit target and crime concerns, we remain positive. The measured economy's propensity to under-perform remains stark evidence of our vulnerability to internal factors – crime, weather conditions, inflation, debt levels; and external influences – energy prices, rising U.S. interest rates, a slowing U.S. economy, a heavy dependence on tourism and remittances.

Foreign direct investment, fiscal discipline and accelerating growth are patently obvious and necessary conditions for our economic prospects to improve. But equally necessary and most important is unity of purpose led by committed leadership at key levels within our society.

Jamaica does not have the luxury of substantial time to address the well-documented deficiencies in our national affairs. The country's collective leadership must adopt an approach that is anchored on collaboration, decisiveness and pragmatism. To do otherwise at this stage will only result in our continued under-performance relative to other emerging economies. We take an active interest in our national affairs because the future of Jamaica and Pan Caribbean remain inextricably linked.

Our country has historically remained filled with both great promises and significant challenges. The past has shown that the challenges more often than not, have gained the upper hand, resulting in under-performance.

We must recognize that the world and business has changed. There are success stories out there among both big and small economies/businesses, developed and emerging economies/businesses. The difference between success and failure is largely determined by leadership - leadership that recognizes the importance of planning followed by timely execution. In this new world, the Big no longer eat the Small, it is the Fast that consume the Slow. To remain successful as a company and country, we must heed this shifting paradigm.

The Minister of Finance has revised the fiscal target and now intends to balance the national budget in fiscal 2007/2008. Tax policy, fiscal discipline, economic growth, stable domestic interest rates (under the aegis of subdued inflationary impulses), and investments that create jobs – when combined with leadership will begin to swing the balance in favour of Jamaica's goal of becoming a great little nation in every respect.

Corporate Governance

In 2005, Pan Caribbean established a Board Charter to formalize and document key guidelines for the operation of the Board and the roles, responsibilities and obligations of its Directors. The Board Charter covers key areas including:

- The composition of the Board and its Committees
- The roles of the Chairman, CEO and Corporate Secretary
- The Board Committees and their mandates
- Definition of an independent director
- Conflicts of Interest and disclosure requirements

The Board, its principal Sub-Committees, their actual composition, mandate and other relevant information are disclosed on pages 16 to 19. At year-end, the directors governing the affairs of Pan Caribbean were as follows:

• Non-independent Directors	5
• Independent Directors	4
• Executive Directors	1

The directors recognize the importance of and are committed to ensuring that appropriate governance practices are established and incorporated into the genetic code of Pan Caribbean. This will result in our compliance with the guidelines established by the Financial Services Commission, The Bank of Jamaica and the Jamaica Stock Exchange, along with meeting the expectations of our shareholders.

Corporate Citizenship

In 2005, Pan Caribbean sought to deepen its commitment to worthy causes in communities across Jamaica. We recognize the value of being a caring corporate citizen and have prioritized our support in the areas of:

Education – Youth are the future of our country

Health – The wellbeing of our people is important

Sports – These activities build positive community spirit

We also encourage our employees to be active participants in their community organizations by volunteering to lead, support and guide those in need. This year we were very responsive to many good causes and further details of Pan Caribbean’s activities are reported on pages 35-37.

Thanks

We wish to acknowledge the contributions of the Hon. Maurice W. Facey, W.G. Bryan Ewen and Stephen B. Facey for their valued contributions as directors of the company. They resigned in 2005 in conjunction with the transfer of Pan Caribbean shares from under the control of Pan Jamaican to Life of Jamaica.

Maurice Facey in particular has played a key role in Pan Caribbean from its inception and we have sought to recognize this contribution in the tribute paid to him later in this Annual Report.

We must also acknowledge our energetic, friendly and professional team that represents the face of Pan Caribbean to our customers, the public, our shareholders, business partners and regulators. We sincerely appreciate the value that you bring to the organization and the results are recorded in this Report. We intend to remain on a path of strong growth so that opportunities for professional development and more responsibilities materialize for our team, which will rebound to the benefit of all stakeholders.

2005 saw the entrance of four new directors to the Board. We welcome the experience and business acumen that these individuals bring to Pan Caribbean. They join our existing directors who are independent-minded, highly respected and have given us outstanding guidance at the Board level.

In closing, we note that the number of investors holding Pan Caribbean shares has substantially grown from 1,222 to 1,758 shareholders. We welcome you and thank you for your confidence in the institution. If you are not yet customers, we encourage you to call us and see how we can support your business to expand or help your investments grow.

Tribute to the Hon. Maurice W. Facey, O.J.

"The most successful men in the end are those whose success is the result of steady accretion... It is the man who carefully advances step by step, with his mind becoming wider and wider - and progressively better able to grasp any theme or situation - persevering in what he knows to be practical, and concentrating his thought upon it, who is bound to succeed in the greatest degree."

Alexander Graham Bell

In 2005, the Hon. Maurice W. Facey, O.J. retired from the Board of Pan Caribbean Financial Services Limited. He was the founding Chairman of Pan Caribbean Merchant Bank and a founding director of Trafalgar Development Bank. Both entities now are a part of the Pan Caribbean Group today. In this year's annual report, we wish to recognize and salute his tremendous service, not just to Pan Caribbean, but to the wider Jamaican society.

Over the last six decades, Maurice Facey has contributed significantly to nation building and demonstrated his deep commitment to Jamaica's economic success. He began his business career in 1946, joining his father's commission agency company at Cecil B. Facey Limited where he remained for fifteen years before taking the decision in 1959 to sell the company to Seagrams of Canada.

and the Hon. Neville Gallimore.

He established Jamaica Property Company shortly after the sale and subsequently merged it with Pan-Jamaican Investment Trust Limited in 1966, creating the capital to expand his real estate activities. This paved the way for the construction of some of the most modern developments at that time – condominium apartments in Manor Park and Abbey Court, retail shopping centers in Constant Spring, residential developments in Acadia and Norbrook as well as the monolithic Imperial Life at the heart of New Kingston (now The Pan Caribbean Building) along with the Scotia Centre and Air Jamaica buildings downtown.

As Chairman of Pan-Jamaican, under his leadership the Group expanded into investment banking, life insurance, food manufacturing, trading, agriculture, tourism and other key areas of Jamaica's economy. Among his experiences in expanding Pan-Jamaican, was the acquisition of Hardware & Lumber in 1969, the first and only successful hostile takeover bid in Jamaica for a company listed on the stock exchange.

In 1983, Pan Caribbean was established out of Mr. Facey's determination to be a part of the banking and financial services sector, which he saw as vital to the economy. He recently declared that "the vision that he had for the institution of being truly entrepreneurial in outlook and geared towards facilitating investments has certainly been achieved" and has charged the current management team to ensure that Pan Caribbean spreads its wings throughout the Caribbean.

According to Mr. Facey in looking back on his career, "Over the years, one could say that I have just about tried it all. However never let it be said that I achieved success on my own. All through my business life I have been shored up on all sides, guided and coached by a multitude of wonderful people."

It is this very humility and reliance on the talents of the people around him that has propelled him to such great heights. He is characterized by his foresight, his zeal and his marvelous ability to make something out of nothing. He has aided in the preservation and restoration of our national treasures and has always given generously of his ideas and his time. His vision, enthusiasm, charm and capacity for hard work have led many to share with him a view of what Jamaica could be if we seize opportunities and show sufficient tenacity and faith in our established ability to take on the world.

On behalf of us all who have benefitted from your vision.

>> Division Reports

This Division encompasses our trading, underwriting and asset management activities. 2005 was the first full year of the combined trading floors of Pan Caribbean and Manufacturers Sigma and it has lived up to our expectations in creating an even more active securities and foreign exchange trading operation to the benefit of our customers and the markets in general.

Our Primary Dealer Unit ended the year as the largest underwriter of Government of Jamaica securities. As the newest seat on the stock exchange, we began operations in January and our stock-broking unit finished the year ranked 4th among 11 participants despite not being fully activated. We hope to improve this position once our retail platform is operational. Our FX Unit ranked first among merchant banks capturing 9% of the overall market and ranked 4th in the wider market.

We are particularly proud of our repeat performance of Sigma Optima (Equity) and Sigma Solution (Fixed Income) Funds. For the second consecutive year, they were the best performing Unit Trusts in Jamaica despite a challenging year, particularly for the equity market.

Looking ahead, continued growth in our capital and our LOJ relationship positions us to be a key distributor of financial securities affording Pan Caribbean the opportunity to best meet the needs of our clients. At the core of this objective is our continued commitment to sustained long-term performance through appropriately managing our client relationships, guarding our reputation and equally important – ensuring that our traders and managers always seek to balance the institution and clients' interests.

The Group's credit portfolio grew 31% during 2005 moving from $3.77 Billion to J$4.95 Billion. An expanded capital base facilitated larger corporate transactions for both lending and bond underwriting activities. We continue to play an important role in helping companies achieve their potential and this is highlighted on pages 30-34 of this Annual Report.

Our medium-term Project Financing and short-term working capital Premium Financing products continue to perform reasonably well. The wholesale credit scheme that provides funding for the micro-business sector expanded significantly over the period. In 2005, we successfully partnered with the Ministry of Industry & Tourism to create a $100 Million fund for members of the Jamaica Manufacturers Association, facilitating the re-tooling and expansion of enterprises in the manufacturing sector at attractive rates.

Credit quality continues to improve as non-performing loans fell to 3.3% of total loans versus 5.8% in 2004. Our objective is to move ahead of the industry average of 2.9%. Loss Provisions as a percentage of non-performing loans were 144% versus the industry average of 100%.

Corporate Trust fees grew 45% to $21 Million for 2005. Our portfolio currently includes the following activities:

- Corporate Secretarial services to five listed companies
- Complete Registrar and Share Transfer services to four listed companies
- Registrar and custodian services for Unit Trusts and Mutual Funds
- Trustee and paying agency services for Corporate Bond Issues
- Trustee paying agency services for real estate held pension funds.

With the regulatory changes accelerating and an expansion of the number of local mutual funds projected, we anticipate that new opportunities will develop.

Our team is a key success factor and we strive to continuously improve the development and management capabilities of our people. During the year, HRD partnered with the other Divisions to accomplish the strategic imperatives set.

Training initiatives took centre stage during 2005. The activities to strengthen our middle management and ensure that our team is empowered to execute their functions in a professional, efficient manner is a continuous process. Focus was placed on Performance Management, Supervisory Management, Superior Customer Service, Sales, Effective Communication, Team-building and enhancement of technical skills.

An Organizational Improvement Committee made up of middle managers was established to drive changes arising from the findings of our Staff Satisfaction Survey. The Pan Vybze Committee was also formed to foster inter-departmental relations, enhance social interaction among employees and build morale. Both these Committees were successful in contributing to improvements at Pan Caribbean.

Succession planning, team building and productivity improvements will be among key 2006 initiatives along with building on 2005's activities.

Technology continues to be critical to executing our strategic objectives. It constitutes an end-to-end transformation of our business. In 2005, we continued to invest in our team and strengthen the foundation of our systems and infrastructure. We successfully completed the upgrade of our support systems for our unit trust operations and implemented key technology synergies with Life of Jamaica. In addition, we continued to focus on continuously strengthening the integrity, reliability, availability and security of our technology architecture.

The formalization of a Projects & Strategic Planning Unit in 2005 signifies our deepened commitment to align our technology initiatives with the planned growth and development of the organization.

In 2006, our focus will be to support the delivery of additional financial services on a robust platform and implement systems that support profit drivers.

In 2005 unaided recall of the Pan Caribbean brand increased from 5% to 31% and new customers grew by 108% when compared to 2004 as we focused on building the brand recognition of Pan Caribbean throughout Jamaica and exceeding our customers' needs and expectations. This was done primarily through the launch and development of:

- Product specific campaigns and MoneyWise columns island wide
- "Living Well at Any Age" investment seminars in conjunction with Life of Jamaica
- Our new Montego Bay branch as our Western hub
- Platinum Financial Solutions, Portfolio Planning and WealthLink products
- Our Bridal Registry investment product featuring our Sigma funds
- Sales support collateral including marketing kits for all representatives

2006 will see the launch of new services designed to expand value niches that we believe bring mutual value.

>> Management's Discussion & Analysis

The company's performance in 2005 versus 2004 reflected primarily positive trends, and was significantly influenced by falling interest rates on both local and foreign currency instruments. 2004's comparative results were restated to reflect continuing and discontinued operations separately.

- Net Interest Income was $1.303 Billion, a 1% decline versus $1.315 Billion
- Non-interest Income rose from $434 Million to $751 Million, up 73%
- Pre-Tax Profit improved from $1.131 Billion to $1.363 Billion, up 21%

Net interest income declined as the interest rate environment in 2005 was substantially lower than 2004. At January 2004 the one-year repo rate was 23.0% versus 15.5% in January 2005, reducing the investment returns on "free capital" as securities maturing were re-invested at substantially lower yields. Also impacting net interest income was a $40 Million amortization charge arising out of the upward adjustment to the carrying values of Originated Securities acquired in the Manufacturers merger. For comparative purposes, $22 Million was amortized in 2004.

Falling interest rates however, created a favourable trading climate for fixed income securities and trading gains contributed $383 Million or 51% to Non-interest Income. Equities also benefited from declining rates during the first half of the year and our new stock brokerage while not fully operational, enjoyed these conditions, generating $48 Million in brokerage fees.

Asset Management Income rose to $115 Million, up 51% primarily as a result of our Sigma Funds appreciation in value due to the stock market's jump in value during 2004 as well as strong unit trust sales in early 2005. Translation gains improved in 2005 moving from $14 Million to $24 Million. FX volumes traded in 2005 were $ 1.8 Billion, with commissions of $64 Million improving by 19%.

As a result of our divestment of 75% of MCIS, we have reported the income from its activities as profit from discontinued operations. Included in 2005 profit from discontinued operations is a capital gain of $22 Million from the MCIS sale.

Expenses on continuing operations grew 12% in 2005, increasing from $618 Million to $691 Million. With the divestment of our subsidiary, MCIS, expenses associated with this company have been excluded from 2004 and 2005's non-interest expense for comparative purposes.

Staff costs rose 45% to $400 Million including $20 Million of expense for stock options. Permanent staff increased from 172 to 190 at year-end with new hires biased to the sales side. Marketing-related expenses were $61 Million in 2005, up 35% versus the prior year as we continued to build our market presence. Depreciation and amortization of fixed assets and software rose from $32 Million to $43 Million during the year.

Other operating expenses fell by $56 Million in 2005. Last year, there was a $43 Million charge arising out of the amortization of Goodwill from the Manufacturers and Lets transactions. Under IFRS, entities with goodwill are no longer required to expense this intangible asset, but must determine whether Goodwill has been impaired. Based on our assessment, there has been no impairment.

Taxation charges were $363 Million of which $197 Million were deferred taxes. Our effective tax rate has been reduced from 33% as a result of tax-free income from securities and tax loss carry-forwards utilized during the year.

Earnings per share reported increased by only 4% to $1.92 despite a 23% jump in Net Income. It is important to note that in 2004, despite the execution of a binding merger agreement on December 31, 2003 between Pan Caribbean and Manufacturers Sigma, the transaction was not consummated until March 1, 2004 when regulatory approval was granted. The transaction structure contained a warranty period that resulted in the delay in the issuance of 26 million fully paid up Pan Caribbean shares. These shares were issued in two tranches, with four million shares due to a single Manufacturers Sigma shareholder being issued in December 2004 and 22 million shares due to the rest of the Manufacturers Sigma shareholders being issued in January 2005.

There was no additional value derived by the merged operations from the delayed issuance of the additional 26 million shares. Under accounting standards, basic EPS calculations do not consider the factors mentioned herein. The result however, was that the weighted number of PCFS shares used in calculating the EPS for Pan Caribbean for the financial year ended 2004 was 452 million shares versus 487 million shares.

Consequently, our earnings per share were calculated at $1.84 versus $1.73.

Total assets fell 2% from $40.9 Billion to $39.9 Billion at year-end. Our investment portfolio, comprised primarily of Government of Jamaica securities or securities collateralized by Government of Jamaica securities, declined $2.2 Billion (6%) at year-end. During the year we sought to further reduce our level of institutional funding and this was achieved, falling from 60% to 40%. Other factors affecting our balance sheet was an assessment that market conditions were not deemed favourable to aggressively grow our investment portfolio by assuming increased liquidity and price risk exposure.

Loans and leases increased $1.2 Billion (31%) as we actively pursued our strategy to increase loan assets. Concurrent with this growth, credit quality continued to improve as non-performing loans accounted for 0.4% of assets versus 0.5% in 2004. Non-performing loans were fully provided for.

Goodwill at year-end totaled $734 Million with the reduction of $26 Million resulting from the 75% divestment of MCIS.

Repo liabilities declined by 4% to $27.7 Billion while Deposits increased 23% to $4.2 Billion. Shareholders Equity on 31 December 2005 was a healthy $6.2 Billion compared to $5.7 Billion for the prior year. Included in Equity are unrealized fair value gains of $287 Million net of deferred taxes and surplus loan loss reserves of $121 Million.

Pan Caribbean utilizes an integrated approach in managing its balance sheet, which includes management of interest rate sensitivity, credit risk, liquidity risk and capital position. In order to provide a rate of return to shareholders, protect its depositors and clients it must constantly seek to monitor and balance liquidity, credit, market, operating and other risks in an economy that exhibits volatility from time to time. This is achieved through a framework of policies, economic and market analysis, as well as other methods that require active and effective management oversight.

As a means of managing its interest rate risk, we use models to simulate various interest rate scenarios to determine our sensitivity to interest rate movements and how it may impact our local and foreign currency portfolios. We seek to manage this risk through fixed and variable rate assets, and monitoring and managing the duration of our portfolios.

Pan Caribbean seeks to diversify its liability portfolio by segmenting market participants to reduce concentrations. We strive to achieve targeted levels of matched assets to liabilities maturities, and maintaining a portfolio of short-term highly liquid securities to meet potential funding gaps, bearing in mind market volatility. PCFS constantly monitors its daily, weekly and monthly liquidity risk to and manage its maturing asset and liability portfolios. Our target is a minimum liquidity ratio of 30%.

Liquidity Risk

There is credit risk in both our securities and lending activities. In our securities activities, we trade on a "delivery versus payment" policy where we accept GOJ securities on a "mark to market" basis with our counter-parties. Exposure limits are also established and monitored. In our lending activities, loans are adequately collateralized, with applicants undergoing a thorough screening and credit analysis process.

Credit Risk

PCFS seeks to manage its exposure to currency risks (primarily U.S. and Euro currencies) through assessing the trade-off between interest rate spreads and currency movements, adherence to stop loss limits and daily monitoring of positions. We measure, monitor and control our liquidity and price risks in these major currencies in determining currency strategy.

Currency Risk

We seek to minimize operating risks through separation of duties, appropriate training, adherence to implemented policies, internal audits and a continuing review and update of policies.

We seek to continuously foster and strengthen our culture of integrity and respect for our clients and trading relationships – "our word is our bond". We actively seek to educate our clients and understand their needs and objectives, so we can guide them appropriately to make decisions that they understand and feel comfortable with.

Coffee Traders

Coffee Traders, a major player in Blue Mountain Coffee, started trading and wholesaling coffee products in 2001. Over 80% of its production is now exported to Japan, the United States and Europe.

Since its very beginning, Coffee Traders sought to sustain and enhance the reputation of the world's premier coffee brand in a number of ways. By supporting the small coffee farmers in meaningful initiatives and focussing on maintaining very high standards, Coffee Traders quickly gained an enviable reputation, leading to a substantial share of this key product that is widely synonymous with Brand Jamaica.

Pan Caribbean, through Manufacturers Sigma, developed a financing package at the inception of Coffee Traders that was supportive of its business model, providing the company with the flexibility to take full advantage of its opportunities. By understanding the industry and its cash flows, and partnering with experienced entrepreneurs, Pan Caribbean and Coffee Traders are helping to increase coffee production, employment and earnings to rural communities. And at the same time, building the reputation of Blue Mountain Coffee in world markets.

Cuddy's Sports Bar and Grill

Courtney "Cuddy" Walsh has been known for many things including a world record 519 test wickets, but up until three years ago, a restaurateur was not one of them. He followed his entrepreneurial dream of opening a sports-oriented bar in New Kingston. Recognizing that success breeds success, Pan Caribbean jumped at the opportunity to finance the venture.

Cuddy's has become popular with sports enthusiasts who want to catch a sporting event on one of sixteen touch screen entertainment centres. Equipped with high tech gadgets and decorated with treasured sports memorabilia, the bar impresses and entertains sports fans and others that visit to enjoy delicious items on the menu. This will definitely be one of the places where cricket fans congregate at next year's Cricket World Cup tournament. Could this be the event that takes Cuddy's global?

Pan Caribbean, like other good corporate citizens, provided in many instances, support for numerous good causes during 2005. We wish to highlight some of these in our report to shareholders so that you have an idea of the areas that we have invested in on your behalf.

Enhancing Education

Since 1993 academic and needs-based scholarships have been provided to the University of West Indies and the University of Technology. In 2005, $2.4 Million in scholarships were granted in the field of business. Our investment has yielded good dividends as two scholarship recipients, Mischa Mcleod and Lancelot Leslie now work with us, contributing to the success of the organization. Other beneficiaries are also building careers in corporate Jamaica.

Monique Todd, Senior Manager, Marketing & New Product Development and IFLEX Solutions Ltd. team member, Promod Damodaran speak with the Principal of Transfiguration Basic School, Mrs. Deita Henry at handover of desks provided by IFLEX and Pan Caribbean.

We not only help the students directly, but the schools themselves as a positive physical environment enhances growth and development. Montego Bay High School, Immaculate Conception High School, Transfiguration Basic School, Marcus Garvey Technical School, Calabar High School and School of Hope for Children with Mental Retardation benefited from cash, computer equipment and supplies.

Our Henry Pratt continues to chair the Area 4 Police Civic Committee's Scholarship Fund, a Pan Caribbean initiative with the full support of the Jamaica Bankers Association. The $1.8 million Fund grants scholarships to children, and has assisted greatly in strengthening the critical relationship between the police and the most volatile inner-city communities in Kingston.

In 2005, we heeded the call from the National Youth Service and in partnership with Life of Jamaica and the Jamaica Social Investment Fund, $1.5 million was raised to support Summer Success Camp, an initiative to rescue 400 high school students at risk of expulsion. Results were positive with the majority returning to school.

Helping hands for Health

Our flagship event, the Sigma Corporate Run yielded over $2.2 Million for the National Blood Transfusion Services ("the Blood Bank"). This organization ensures that blood and blood products are readily available when tragedy strikes. With over 3,000 participants, the 2005 Corporate Run was the largest road race in Jamaica and highlighted the tremendous work being done by the Blood Bank.

Supporting Sports

Jamaica being a sports-loving nation, Pan Caribbean has supported high schools, sport clubs and organizations in this area during the year. Football, cricket, golf and track & field were the primary beneficiaries. The Special Olympics and KASAFA's President's Cup received sponsorship support via our events-related marketing activities.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Basis of preparation

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), and have been prepared under the historical cost convention as modified by the revaluation of available-for-sale and trading securities.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the company's accounting policies. The areas involving a high degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements are disclosed in Note 4.

Standards, interpretations and amendments to published standards effective in 2005

Certain new standards, interpretations and amendments to existing standards have been published that became effective during the current financial year. The company has assessed the relevance of all such new standards, interpretations and amendments and has adopted the following IFRS, which are relevant to its operations. The 2004 comparative figures have been amended as required, in accordance with the relevant requirements.

IAS 1 (revised 2003)	Presentation of Financial Statements
IAS 8 (revised 2003)	Accounting Policies, Changes and Accounting Estimates and Errors
IAS 10 (revised 2003)	Events after the balance sheet date
IAS 16 (revised 2003)	Property, Plant and Equipment
IAS 17 (revised 2003)	Leases
IAS 21 (revised 2003)	The Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates
IAS 24 (revised 2003)	Related party Disclosures
IAS 36 (revised 2003)	Financial Instruments: Disclosure and Presentation
IAS 38 (revised 2003)	Impairment of Assets
IAS 39 (revised 2003/2004)	Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement

The adoption of IAS 1, 8, 10, 16, 17, 21, 24, 36, 38 (all revised 2003) and 39 (revised 2003/2004) did not result in substantial changes to the company's accounting policies. In summary:

- IAS 1 (revised 2003) has affected the financial statement presentation, as well as a number of disclosures.
- IAS 8, 10, 16, 17, 21, 36, 38 (all revised 2003) and IAS 39 (revised 2003/2004) had no material effect on the company's policies.
- IAS 24 (revised 2003) has affected the identification of related parties and related-party disclosures.

All changes in the accounting policies have been made in accordance with the transition provisions in the respective standards. All new standards, amendments and interpretations, in so far as they apply to the company, require retrospective application other than IAS 39 – the derecognition of financial assets is applied prospectively.

The impact of the adoption of the new standards, interpretations and amendments to existing standards is detailed in Note 48.

Interpretations and amendments to published standards that are not yet effective

At the date of authorisation of these financial statements, certain new standards, amendments and interpretations to existing standards have been issued which were not yet effective at balance sheet date, and which the company did not early adopt. The company has assessed the relevance of all such new standards, interpretations and amendments, and has determined that the following may be relevant to its operations, and has concluded as follows:

- IAS 19 (Amendment), Employee Benefits (effective from 1 January 2006). This amendment introduces the option of an alternative recognition approach for actuarial gains and losses. It may impose additional recognition requirements for multi-employer plans where insufficient information is available to apply defined benefit accounting. It also adds new disclosure requirements. The company will apply this amendment from annual periods beginning 1 January 2006.
- IAS 39 (Amendment), The Fair Value Option (effective from 1 January 2006). This amendment changes the definition of financial instruments classified at fair value through profit or loss and restricts the ability to designate financial instruments as part of this category. The company believes that this amendment should not have a significant impact on the classification of financial instruments, as the company should be able to comply with the amended criteria for the designation of financial instruments at fair value through profit and loss. The company will apply this amendment from annual periods beginning 1 January 2006.
- IFRS 7, Financial Instruments: Disclosures, and a complementary Amendment to IAS 1, Presentation of Financial Statements - Capital Disclosures (effective from 1 January 2007). IFRS 7 introduces new disclosures to improve the information about financial instruments. It requires the disclosure of qualitative and quantitative information about exposure to risks arising from financial instruments, including specified minimum disclosures about credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk, including sensitivity analysis to market risk. It replaces IAS 30, Disclosures in the Financial Statements of Banks and Similar Financial Institutions, and disclosure requirements in IAS 32, Financial Instruments: Disclosure and Presentation. The amendment to IAS 1 introduces disclosures about the level of an entity's capital and how it manages capital. The company assessed the impact of IFRS 7 and the amendment to IAS 1 and concluded that the main additional disclosures will be the sensitivity analysis to market risk and the capital disclosures required by the amendment of IAS 1. The company will apply IFRS 7 and the amendment to IAS 1 from annual periods beginning 1 January 2007.
- IFRIC 4, Determining whether an Arrangement contains a Lease (effective from 1 January 2006). IFRIC 4 requires the determination of whether an arrangement is or contains a lease to be based on the substance of the arrangement. It requires an assessment of whether: (a) fulfilment of the arrangement is dependent on the use of a specific asset or assets (the asset); and (b) the arrangement conveys a right to use the asset. The company will apply IFRIC 4 from annual periods beginning 1 January 2006.

(b) Consolidation

(i) Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are all entities over which the Group has the power to govern the financial and operating policies generally accompanying a shareholding of more than one half of the voting rights. The existence and effect of potential voting rights that are currently exercisable or convertible are considered when assessing whether the Group controls another entity.

The consolidated financial statements comprise those of the company and its subsidiaries (the Group) presented as a single economic entity. Subsidiaries are consolidated on a line-by-line basis from the date on which control is transferred to the Group and are no longer consolidated from the date that control ceases.

The purchase method of accounting is used to account for the acquisition of subsidiaries. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the fair value of the assets given up, shares issued or liabilities undertaken at the date of acquisition plus costs directly attributable to the acquisition. The excess of the cost of acquisition over the fair value of the net assets of the subsidiary acquired is recorded as goodwill.

Intercompany transactions, balances and unrealised gains and losses on transactions between companies within the Group are eliminated.

(ii) Associates

Associates are all entities over which the Group has significant influence but not control, generally accompanying a shareholding of between 20% and 50% of the voting rights. Investments in associates are accounted for under the equity method of accounting and are initially recognised at cost. The Group's investment in associates include goodwill (net of any accumulated impairment loss) identified on acquisition.

Unrealised gains on transactions between the Group and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in the associates. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of impairment of the asset transferred. Accounting policies have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

(c) Segment reporting

A business segment is a Group of assets and operations engaged in providing products or services that are subject to risks and returns that are different from those of other business segments. A geographical segment is engaged in providing products or services within a particular economic environment that are subject to risks and returns that are different from those of segments operating in other economic environments.

(d) Foreign currency translation

(i) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Group's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates ('the functional currency'). The consolidated financial statements are presented in Jamaican dollars, which is the company's functional and presentation currency.

(ii) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are accounted for at the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. At the balance sheet date, assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated using the closing exchange rate. These rates represent the weighted average rates at which the company trades in foreign currencies.

Exchange differences resulting from the settlement of transactions at rates different from those at the dates of the transactions, and unrealised foreign exchange differences on unsettled foreign currency assets and liabilities are recognised in the profit and loss account.

Exchange differences on non-monetary financial assets are a component of the change in their fair value. Exchange differences are recognised in stockholders' equity for non-monetary financial assets classified as available-for-sale.

(e) Interest income and expenses

Interest income and expense are recognised in the profit and loss account for all interest-bearing instruments on an accrual basis using the effective yield method based on the actual purchase price. Interest income includes coupons earned on fixed income investments and accrued discount or premium on treasury bills and other discounted instruments.

Jamaican banking regulations stipulate that, where collection of interest income is considered doubtful or payment is outstanding for 90 days or more, interest should be taken into account on the cash basis. IFRS require that when loans become doubtful of collection, they are written down to their recoverable amounts and interest income is thereafter recognised based on the rate of interest that was used to discount the future cash flows for the purpose of measuring the recoverable amount. The difference between the regulatory and IFRS bases of interest recognition was assessed to be immaterial.

(f) Fees and commission income

Fees and commission income are recognised on an accrual basis. Fees and commissions arising from negotiating or participating in the negotiation of a transaction for a third party are recognised on completion of the underlying transaction.

(g) Financial Assets

The Group classifies its financial assets in the categories: financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, loans and receivables, and available-for-sale financial assets. Management determines the classification of its investments at initial recognition.

(i) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

This category has two sub-categories: financial assets held for trading, and those designated at fair value through profit or loss at inception. A financial asset is classified in this category if acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the short term or if so designated by management.

(ii) Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed and determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. They arise when the company provides money, goods or services directly to a debtor with no intention of trading the receivable.

(iii) Available-for-sale

Available-for-sale investments are those intended to be held for an indefinite period of time, which may be sold in response to needs for liquidity or changes in interest rates, exchange rates or equity prices.

Purchases and sales of financial assets available-for-sale are recognised at the trade date – the date on which the company commits the purchase or sell the asset. Loans and receivables are recognised when cash is advanced to the borrowers.

Financial assets are initially recognised at fair value plus transaction costs for all financial assets not carried at fair value through profit or loss. Available-for-sale financial assets are subsequently carried at fair value. Loans and receivables are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Financial assets are derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the financial assets have expired or where the company has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership.

Changes in the fair value of available-for-sale securities denominated in a foreign currency are analysed between translation differences resulting from changes in amortised cost of the security and other changes in the carrying amount of the security. The translation differences are recognised in profit or loss, and other changes in carrying amount are recognised in equity. Changes in the fair value of available-for-sale securities are recognised in equity.

When securities classified as available-for-sale are sold or impaired, the accumulated fair value adjustments recognised in equity are included in the profit and loss account.

Interest on available-for-sale securities calculated using the effective interest method is recognised in the profit and loss account. Dividends on available-for-sale equity instruments are recognised in the profit and loss account when the company's right to receive payments is established.

The fair values of quoted investments are based on current bid prices. If the market for a financial asset is not active (and for unlisted securities), the company establishes fair value by using valuation techniques. These include the use of recent arm's length transactions, reference to other instruments that are substantially the same, discounted cash flow analysis, and option pricing models making maximum use of market inputs and relying as little as possible on entity-specific inputs.

2. Significant Accounting Policies (Cont'd)

(g) Financial Assets (Continued)

The company assesses at each balance sheet date whether there is objective evidence that a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired. In the case of equity securities classified as available-for-sale, a significant or prolonged decline in the fair value of the security below its cost is considered an indicator that the securities are impaired. If any such evidence exists for available-for-sale financial assets, the cumulative loss – measured as the difference between the acquisition cost and the current fair value, less any impairment loss on that financial asset previously recognised in profit or loss – is removed from equity and recognised in the profit and loss account. Impairment losses recognised in the profit and loss account on equity instruments are not reversed through the profit and loss account. Impairment provisioning of loans is described in Note 2 (h).

Financial assets are reclassified in the financial statements as pledged assets when the asset is pledged as collateral and the transferee has the right by contract or custom to sell or repledge the collateral. The counterparty liability is included in amounts due to other banks and other financial institutions or customer deposits or securities sold under agreement to repurchase.

(h) Provision for credit losses

A provision for credit losses is established if there is objective evidence that a loan is impaired. A loan is considered impaired when management determines that it is probable that all amounts due according to the original contractual terms will not be collected. When a loan has been identified as impaired, the carrying amount of the loan is reduced to its estimated recoverable amount by recording specific provisions for credit losses. The recoverable amount is the present value of expected future cash flows including amounts recoverable from guarantees and collateral, discounted at the original effective interest rate of the loan.

The provision for credit losses also covers situations where there is objective evidence that probable losses are present in components of the loan portfolio at the balance sheet date. These have been estimated based upon historical patterns of losses in each component, the credit ratings allocated to the borrowers and reflecting the current economic climate in which the borrowers operate.

For non-performing and impaired loans the accrual of interest income based on the original terms of the loan is discontinued. Jamaican banking regulations require that interest on non-performing loans be taken into account on the cash basis. IFRS require the increase in the present value of impaired loans due to the passage of time to be reported as interest income. The difference between the Jamaican regulatory basis and IFRS was assessed to be immaterial.

Statutory and other regulatory loan loss reserve requirements that are different from these amounts are dealt with in a non-distributable loan loss reserve as an adjustment to retained earnings.

Write-offs are made when all or part of a loan is deemed uncollectible or in the case of debt forgiveness. Write-offs are charged against previously established provisions for credit losses and reduce the principal amount of a loan. Recoveries in part or in full of amounts previously written-off are credited to the profit and loss account.

2. Significant Accounting Policies (Cont'd)

(i) Securities purchased/sold under agreements to resell/repurchase

Securities purchased under agreements to resell (reverse repurchase agreements) and securities sold under agreements to repurchase (repurchase agreements) are treated as collateralised financing transactions and are recorded at the amount at which the securities were acquired or sold plus accrued interest.

Securities sold subject to repurchase agreements (repos) are reclassified in the financial statements as pledged assets when the transferee has the right by contract or custom to sell or repledge the collateral. The counterparty liability is included in amounts due to banks and other financial institutions, customer deposits, or securities sold under agreements to repurchase.

(j) Investment in subsidiaries

Investments by the company in subsidiaries are stated at cost.

(k) Intangible assets

Generally, costs associated with developing or maintaining computer software are recognised as an expense as incurred. However, costs that are directly associated with identifiable and unique software products controlled by the Group, and which have probable economic benefits exceeding the cost beyond one year, are recognised as intangible assets.

Expenditure which enhances or extends the performance of computer software beyond their original specifications is recognised as capital improvement and added to the original cost of the software. Computer software costs are amortised using the straight-line method over their useful lives.

Intangible assets are reviewed periodically for impairment. Where the carrying amount of an intangible asset is greater than its estimated recoverable amount, it is written down immediately to its recoverable amount.

(l) Property, plant and equipment

All property, plant and equipment are stated at historical or deemed cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses.

Depreciation is calculated on the straight-line basis at annual rates that will write off the carrying value of each asset over the period of its expected useful life. The estimated useful lives are as follows:

Furniture and equipment	10 years
Motor vehicles	5 years
Computer equipment	3 years
Leasehold improvements	10 years

Property, plant and equipment are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. Where the carrying amount of an asset is greater than its estimated recoverable amount, it is written down immediately to its recoverable amount.

Gains and losses on disposal of property, plant and equipment are determined by reference to their carrying amount and are taken into account in determining operating profit. Repairs and renewals are charged to the profit and loss account when the expenditure is incurred.

2. Significant Accounting Policies (Cont'd)

(m) Borrowings

Borrowings are recognised initially at fair value, being their issue proceeds net of transaction costs incurred. Subsequently, borrowings are stated at amortised cost and any difference between net proceeds and the redemption value is recognised in the profit and loss account over the period of the borrowings using the effective yield method.

(n) Goodwill

Goodwill represents the excess of the cost of an acquisition over the fair value of the Group's share of the net identifiable assets of the acquired subsidiary/associate at the date of acquisition. Goodwill arising on the acquisitions of associates is included in 'investments in associates'. Goodwill is tested annually for impairment and carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses. Gains and losses on the disposal of an entity include the carrying amount of goodwill relating to the entity sold.

Goodwill is allocated to cash-generating units for the purpose of impairment testing. Each of those cash-generating units is represented by each primary reporting segment (see Note 2 (c)).

(o) Employee benefits

(i) Pension obligations

The Group participates in a defined benefit plan administered by Life of Jamaica Limited. The plan is funded by payments from employees and the Group, taking into account the recommendations of independent qualified actuaries. Benefits under the plan are based on career earnings.

The asset or liability in respect of the plan is the difference between the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the balance sheet date and the fair value of plan assets, adjusted for unrecognised actuarial gains/losses and past service cost. Where a pension asset arises, the amount recognised is limited to the net total of any cumulative unrecognised net actuarial losses and past service cost and the present value of any economic benefits available in the form of refunds from the plan or reduction in future contributions to the plan. The pension costs are assessed using the projected unit credit method. Under this method, the cost of providing pensions is charged to the profit and loss account so as to spread the regular cost over the service lives of the employees in accordance with the advice of the actuaries, who carry out a full valuation of the plan every year. The pension obligation is measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows using discount rates based on market yields on government securities which have terms to maturity approximating the terms of the related liability.

A portion of actuarial gains and losses is recognised in the profit and loss account if the net cumulative unrecognised actuarial gains or losses at the end of the previous reporting period exceeded 10 percent of the greater of the present value of the gross defined benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets at that date. Any excess actuarial gains or losses are recognised in the profit and loss account over the average remaining service lives of the participating employees.

(ii) Other post-retirement obligations

The Group provides post-retirement health care benefits to their retirees. The entitlement for these benefits is usually based on the employee remaining in service up to retirement age and the completion of a minimum service period. The expected costs of these benefits are accrued over the period of employment, using a methodology similar to that for defined benefit pension plans. Valuations of these obligations are carried out annually by independent qualified actuaries.

2. Significant Accounting Policies (Cont'd)

(o) Employee benefits (Continued)

(iii) Termination benefits

Termination benefits are payable whenever an employee's employment is terminated before the normal retirement date or whenever an employee accepts voluntary redundancy in exchange for these benefits. The Group recognises termination benefits when it is demonstrably committed to either terminate the employment of current employees according to a detailed formal plan without the possibility of withdrawal or to provide termination benefits as a result of an offer made to encourage voluntary redundancy. Benefits falling due more than twelve months after the balance sheet date are discounted to present value.

(iv) Share-based compensation

The Group operates an equity-settled, share-based compensation plan.

The fair value of the employee services received in exchange for the grant of the options is recognised as an expense. The total amount to be expensed over the vesting period is determined by reference to the fair value of the options granted, excluding the impact of any non-market vesting conditions (for example, profitability and sales growth targets). Non-market vesting conditions are included in assumptions about the number of options that are expected to become exercisable. At each balance sheet date, the entity revises its estimates of the number of options that are expected to become exercisable. It recognises the impact of the revision of original estimates, if any, in the profit and loss account, and a corresponding adjustment to equity over the remaining vesting period.

The proceeds received net of any directly attributable transaction costs are credited to share capital (nominal value) and share premium when the options are exercised.

(p) Leases

When assets are leased out under a finance lease, the present value of the lease payments is recognised as a receivable. The difference between the gross receivable and the present value of the receivable is recognised as unearned finance income. Lease income is recognised over the term of the lease in a manner which reflects a constant periodic rate of return on the net investment in the lease.

Assets leased out under operating leases are included in property, plant and equipment in the balance sheet. They are depreciated over their expected useful lives on a basis consistent with similar owned assets. Rental income is recognised on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

(q) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when there is a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation can be made.

2. Significant Accounting Policies (Cont'd)

(r) Financial Instruments

Financial instruments carried on the balance sheet include cash resources, trading securities, securities purchased under agreements to resell, loans, lease receivables, investment securities, other assets excluding property, plant and equipment, deposits by customers and all other liabilities.

The fair values of the company's financial instruments are discussed in Note 41.

(s) Taxation

Taxation on the profit or loss for the year comprises current and deferred tax. Current and deferred taxes are recognised as income tax expense or benefit in the profit and loss account except, where they relate to items recorded in stockholders' equity, they are also charged or credited to stockholders' equity.

(i) Current taxation

Current tax is the expected taxation payable on the taxable income for the year, using tax rates enacted at the balance sheet date, and any adjustment to tax payable and tax losses in respect of previous years.

(ii) Deferred taxation

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities and their amounts as measured for tax purposes, which will result in taxable amounts in future periods. Deferred tax assets are recognised for temporary differences which will result in deductible amounts in future periods, but only to the extent it is probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available against which these differences can be utilised.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the asset will be realised or the liability will be settled based on enacted rates.

Current and deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when they arise from the same taxable entity, relate to the same tax authority and when the legal right of offset exists.

(t) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and bank balances are stated at cost. For the purpose of the cash flow statement, cash and cash equivalents comprise balances with less than 90 days maturity from the date of acquisition including cash and balances due from other financial institutions, investment securities and amounts due to banks and other financial institutions.

(u) Grants

Grants are deducted in arriving at the carrying amount of the asset, and are recognised as income over the life of the related asset by way of a reduced amortisation charge.

(v) Fiduciary activities

Assets and income arising thereon, together with related undertakings to return such assets to customers are excluded from these financial statements where the company or its subsidiaries act in a fiduciary capacity such as nominee, trustee or agent.

(w) Deposits

Deposits are recognised initially at the nominal amount when funds are received. Deposits are subsequently stated at amortised cost using the effective yield method. Interest payable on deposits and securities are included in other liabilities.

2. Significant Accounting Policies (Cont'd)

(x) Dividends

Dividends on ordinary shares are recognised in equity in the period in which they are approved for payment.

Dividends for the year that are declared after the balance sheet date are dealt with in the subsequent events note.

(y) Share capital

Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares are shown in equity as a deduction from the proceeds.

(z) Comparative information

Where necessary, comparative figures have been reclassified to conform with changes in presentation in the current year. In particular, the comparatives have been adjusted or extended to reflect the requirements of new IFRS, interpretations and amendments to existing IFRS (Note 2 (a)).

3. Financial Risk Management

By its nature, the Group's activities are principally related to the use of financial instruments. The Group accepts deposits from customers at both fixed and floating rates and for various periods and seeks to earn above average interest margins by investing these funds in high quality assets. The Group seeks to increase these margins by consolidating short-term funds and lending for longer periods at higher rates while maintaining sufficient liquidity to meet all claims that might fall due.

The Group also seeks to raise its interest margins by obtaining above average margins, net of provisions, through lending to commercial and retail borrowers with a range of credit standing. Such exposures involve not just loans, but also guarantees and other commitments such as letters of credit.

The Group also trades in financial instruments, where it takes positions to take advantage of short-term market movements in equity and bond prices, and in foreign exchange and interest rates. The Board of Directors places trading limits on the level of exposure that can be taken.

(a) Liquidity risk

The Group is exposed to daily calls on its available cash resources from maturing deposits and repurchase agreements, loan drawdowns, and guarantees. The Group does not maintain cash resources to meet all of these needs as experience shows that a minimum level of reinvestment of maturing funds can be predicted with a high level of certainty. The Group's Treasury Department seeks to have available a minimum proportion of maturing funds to meet such calls. The Group's policy is to hold a high proportion of liquid assets to cover withdrawals at unexpected levels of demand.

The following tables analyse assets and liabilities of the Group into relevant maturity groupings based on the remaining period at balance sheet date to the contractual maturity date.

3. Financial Risk Management (Cont'd)

(a) Liquidity risk (Continued)

The matching and controlled mismatching of the maturities and interest rates of assets and liabilities is fundamental to the management of the Group. It is unusual for companies ever to be completely matched since business transacted is often of uncertain term and of different types. An unmatched position potentially enhances profitability, but can also increase the risk of loss.

The maturities of assets and liabilities and the ability to replace, at an acceptable cost, interest-bearing liabilities as they mature, are important factors in assessing the liquidity of the Group and its exposure to changes in interest rates and exchange rates.

(b) Interest rate risk

The Group takes on exposure to the effects of fluctuations in the prevailing levels of market interest rates on its financial position and cash flows. Interest margins may increase as a result of such changes but may reduce or create losses in the event that unexpected movements arise. The Asset and Liability Committee sets limits on the level of mismatch of interest rate repricing that may be undertaken.

(c) Market risk

The Group takes on exposure to market risks. Market risks arise from open positions in interest rate, currency and equity products, all of which are exposed to general and specific market movements. The Group estimates the market risk of positions held and the maximum losses expected based on a number of assumptions for various changes in market conditions. Market risk is monitored by the Credit and Risk Management Committees which carries out extensive research and monitors the price movement of financial assets on the local and international markets.

(d) Cash Flow risk

Cash flow risk is the risk that future cash flows associated with a monetary financial instrument will fluctuate in amount. The Group and bank manage this risk by ensuring, as far as possible, that financial assets and liabilities are matched to mitigate any significant adverse cash flows.

3. Financial Risk Management (Cont'd)

(e) Credit risk

The Group takes on exposure to credit risk which is the risk that a counterparty will be unable to pay amounts in full when due. Credit risk is inherent in traditional banking products – loans, commitments to lend, and contracts to support counterparties' obligations to third parties such as letters of credit. Positions in tradeable assets such as bonds and equities also carry credit risk.

The Group structures the levels of credit risk it undertakes by placing limits on the amount of risk accepted in relation to one borrower, or groups of borrowers, and to geographical and industry segments. Such risks are monitored on a revolving basis and subject to an annual or more frequent review. The exposure to any one borrower including banks and brokers is restricted by limits covering balance sheet exposures. Actual exposures against limits are monitored daily. Exposure to credit risk is managed through regular analysis of the ability of borrowers and potential borrowers to meet interest and capital repayment obligations and by changing these lending limits where appropriate. Exposure to credit risk is also managed in part by obtaining collateral and corporate and personal guarantees.

It is the Group's policy to obtain control or take possession of securities purchased under agreements to resell. The Group monitors the market value of the underlying securities which collateralise the related receivable, including accrued interest and requests additional collateral where deemed appropriate. The risk is managed primarily by review of the financial status of each counterparty.

The following table summarises the credit exposure of the Group and the company to businesses and government by sector:

4. Critical Accounting Judgements and Key Sources of Estimation Uncertainty

The Group makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future that may affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities in the next financial year. The Group also makes judgements, apart from those involving estimates, in the process of applying the accounting policies, that affect the amounts recognised in the financial statements. These estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. The primary area of critical accounting judgement and key source of estimation uncertainty is impairment losses on loans and advances.

The Group reviews its loan portfolio to assess impairment at least on a quarterly basis. In determining whether an impairment loss should be recorded in the profit and loss account, the Group makes judgements as to whether there is any observable data indicating that there is a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flows from loans. This evidence may include observable data indicating that there has been an adverse change in the payment status of borrowers in a group, or national or local economic conditions that correlate with defaults on assets in the group. Management uses estimates based on historical loss experience for assets with credit risk characteristics and objective evidence of impairment similar to those in the portfolio when scheduling its future cash flows. The methodology and assumptions used for estimating both the amount and timing of future cash flows are reviewed regularly to reduce any differences between loss estimates and actual loss experience. To the extent that the net present value of estimated cash flows differs by +/-5 percent, the provision would be estimated $4,978,000 higher or $3,372,000 lower.

5. Segment Reporting

The Group is organised into three main business segments:

27. Goodwill (Cont'd)

With the adoption of the revised IFRS, goodwill is no longer amortised. Accordingly, no amortisation for goodwill has been recorded for the current year. Rather, on an annual basis, an assessment for impairment is done. If there are indications of impairment testing is done more frequently.

The impairment test is carried out by comparing the recoverable amount of the Group's cash generating units (CGUs) to which goodwill has been allocated to the carrying amount of those CGUs plus goodwill. For the purposes of the impairment assessment, goodwill has been allocated to the Group's cash generating units as follows:

	2005	2004
	$'000	$'000
Investment management	72,500	72,500
Merchant banking	639,765	639,765
Other	21,485	47,745
	733,750	760,010

The recoverable amount of a CGU is based on its fair value less costs to sell, as estimated on the basis of the price/earnings ratios of similar businesses. Observable market prices are used.

30. Retirement Benefits

(a) Pension schemes

The company and its subsidiaries have established a number of pension schemes covering all permanent employees. The assets of funded plans are held independently of the Group's assets in separate trustee administered funds. Defined benefit plans are valued by independent actuaries annually using the projected unit credit method. The latest actuarial valuations were carried out as at 31 December 2005.

A resolution has been passed to fix the rate of contribution of the company to 5% of pensionable salary. Any plan surplus or funding deficiency is absorbed by a subsidiary, Pan Caribbean Merchant Bank Limited. Accordingly, no pension assets or obligations were recorded for the company in these financial statements.

The outstanding balance of the loan after the payments made to 31 March 2010 shall be discharged in full by the payment of the adjusted loan balance by five equal annual installments beginning on 31st March 2011. Repayment may either be in Euro or one or more currencies of the member states of the European Economic Community and shall be calculated as the Euro equivalent of the Jamaican dollar liability using exchange rates between the Euro and the selected currencies prevailing on the thirtieth day before the date of payment. In the event of a liquidation of the beneficiary, the outstanding balance of the loan in respect of the equity participation shall be discharged by EIB.

Facility # 2

The company offers share options to employees who have completed the minimum eligibility period of employment. Options are conditional on the employee completing a minimum service period of one year (the vesting period). Options are forfeited if the employee leaves the Group before the options vest. Options were granted as follows:

- (i) 450,000 share options on 7 February 2002. These expire on 31 December 2006. The shares in respect of these options have been issued by the company and are held in an Employee Share Option Trust. The exercise price for these options is $4.55.
- (ii) 17,220,000 share options on 8 March 2004. These options expire on 31 December 2006. The exercise price for the options is $10. The options vest by 31 December 2006. 6,600,000 shares were allotted in the prior year. A further 900,000 vested options were exercised during the year.

36. Share Options Reserve (Cont'd)

Details of the share options outstanding are as follows:

	Number of share options	Weighted average exercise price	Number of share options	Weighted average exercise price
	2005	2005	2004	2004
	'000	$	'000	$
At beginning of year	11,887	9.80	450	4.55

Lapsed	(60)	4.55	-	-
	11,210	12.70	11,887	9.80
Exercisable at the end of the period	7,510	10.20	6,070	10.40

For options outstanding at the end of the year, exercise prices range from $4.55 to $36.50 (2004 - $4.55 to $10.00). The weighted average remaining contractual term is two years (2004 – two years).

The weighted average share price at the date of exercise for options exercised during the year was $37.20.

The share options reserve balance at the year end represents the accumulated fair value of services provided by employees in consideration for shares, as measured by reference to the fair value of the shares. The fair value of the options at the year end determined using the Black-Scholes valuation model was $20,420,000. The significant inputs into the model were weighted average share prices of $5.60 at the grant date, exercise price shown above, standard deviation of expected share price returns of 35%, option life disclosed above, and annual risk free interest rate of 16%. The expected volatility is based on statistical analysis of daily share prices over one year, as share prices for periods prior to the restructuring of the Group in 2004 would not be reflective of the current Group's operations.

The Group recognised total expenses of $20,420,000 (2004 - $Nil) as share options expense.

37. Retained Earnings Reserve

Section 2 of the Financial Institutions Act permits the transfer of any portion of the financial institution subsidiary's net profit to a retained earnings reserve. This reserve constitutes a part of the capital base for the purpose of determining the maximum level of deposit liabilities and lending to customers.

Transfers to the retained earnings reserve are made at the discretion of the subsidiary's Board of Directors; such transfers must be notified to the Bank of Jamaica.

31 December 2005

(expressed in Jamaican dollars unless otherwise indicated)

38. Reserve Fund

This fund is maintained in accordance with the Financial Institutions Act 1992 which requires that a minimum of 15% of the net profit of the banking subsidiary as defined by the Act be transferred annually to the reserve fund until the amount of the fund is 50% of the paid-up share capital of the subsidiary, and thereafter 10% of the net profit until the amount of the fund is equal to the paid-up capital of the subsidiary.

The deposit liabilities of the banking subsidiary and other indebtedness for borrowed money, together with all interest accrued, should not exceed twenty times its capital base.

There were no transfers to the reserve fund during the period as the reserve balance was equal to the paid up share capital of the banking subsidiary.

39. Loan Loss Reserve

This is a non-distributable reserve representing the excess of the provision for credit losses determined using the Bank of Jamaica's regulatory requirements over the amount determined under IFRS (Note 21).

40. Fair Value Reserve

This represents the unrealised surplus or deficit on the revaluation of available-for-sale investments.

41. Fair Values of Financial Instruments

Fair value is the amount for which an asset could be exchanged, or a liability settled, between knowledgeable, willing parties in an arm's length transaction. Market price is used to determine fair value where an active market (such as a recognised stock exchange) exists as it is the best evidence of the fair value of a financial instrument. However, market prices are not available for a significant number of the financial assets and liabilities held and issued by the Group. Therefore, for financial instruments where no market price is available, the fair values presented have been estimated using present value or other estimation and valuation techniques based on market conditions existing at balance sheet dates.

The values derived from applying these techniques are significantly affected by the underlying assumptions used concerning both the amounts and timing of future cash flows and the discount rates. The following methods and assumptions have been used:

- (a) Investment securities classified as available-for-sale are measured at fair value by reference to quoted market prices when available. If quoted market prices are not available, then fair values are estimated on the basis of pricing models or other recognised valuation techniques;
- (b) The fair value of demand deposits and savings accounts with no specific maturity is assumed to be the amount payable on demand at the balance sheet date;
- (c) The fair value of variable rate financial instruments is assumed to approximate their carrying amounts; and
- (d) The fair value of fixed rate loans is estimated by comparing market interest rates when the loans were granted with current market rates offered on similar loans. For match-funded loans the fair value is assumed to be equal to their carrying value, as gains and losses offset each other. Changes in the credit quality of loans within the portfolio are not taken into account in determining gross fair values as the impact of credit risk is recognised separately by deducting the amount of the provisions for credit losses from both book and fair values; and
- (e) Equity securities for which fair values cannot be measured reliably are recognised at cost less impairment.
