Programme

The roles and duties of the Corporate Secretary have evolved considerably beyond board meeting responsibilities, fiduciary duties to shareholders, regulatory and statutory compliance, to focus more on good governance. As the legislative and regulatory environment changes and with advances in technology, the demands on corporate secretaries and legal counsels have increased significantly. Key among these changes is the impact of amendments in data capture protection and transmittal seen in the new General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), which has presented both opportunities and challenges for maintaining good governance, which this workshop aims to address.

The intent of the agenda is therefore to present an in depth understanding and recognition of the dynamic factors driving the roles of governance professionals and bring focus to the specialized knowledge and skills to be mastered for undaunted effectiveness in your role as the leading resource to Boards and senior management. The course probes into new and heightened standards and professional requirements and aims to close gaps in knowledge and functional skills. The knowledge and working skills imparted will be presented to have immediate applicability, whether you work in a private or public sector organization.

The JSE has teamed up with industry experts from ICSA Governance Institute in the United Kingdom, their Jamaican Chapter and leading specialists locally, to provide the different sectors and businesses with international standards and real-world experiential knowledge as we work together to promote good governance and the best corporate practices within all sectors.

Meet the Experts

Julie Thompson-James is an Attorney at Law and founder of Cube Corporate Support Limited, a corporate governance advisory firm. She has a wealth of experience in both public and private sectors.

Edward Alexander is tTech's Ltd founder and Executive Chairman. This very capable IT specialist and business executive established tTech in 2006 after an illustrious eighteen-year career with GraceKennedy Limited, where he served as a Director and the Company's Chief Information Officer.

Duane Lue Fung is the founder and Chairman of Think Grow Lead. He has over 20 years experience in creating and growing companies. He rose to prominence as the young entrepreneur who grew a home-based business into a multi-million-dollar business solutions provider, ranked in the Top 5 across the Caribbean.

Simon Osborne is Chief Executive, a Fellow of ICSA, and a solicitor. He brings first-hand knowledge of the practical aspects of Boards and how to Identify performance improvements. Until April 2003, Simon's career was in the British railway industry as general counsel, company secretary and latterly an executive director. He is also a non-executive director of Crown Business Communications – an award winning corporate communications agency. In the voluntary sector, Simon is Deputy Chairman of the principal UK railway industry charity, the Railway Benefit Fund, and chairs its Nominations Committee.

Theresa Minnie - Head of Outreach, ICSA: After owning and running several successful businesses in South Africa, Theresa returned to the UK in 1999 where she began her career at ICSA. She was Head of Membership for nearly 14 years, and appointed to her current role in 2015.
