Kingston Wharves Announces Leadership Changes.

Grantley Stephenson Appointed Deputy Chairman and Retires as CEO

Mark Williams Appointed CEO

Kingston, Jamaica

Kingston Wharves Limited announced Grantley Stephenson as Deputy Chairman of the company, as he retires from duties as Chief Executive Officer. Incumbent Chief Operating Officer Mark Williams has been appointed to the role of Chief Executive Officer, both appointments taking effect January 6, 2020.

In making the announcement Chairman Jeffrey Hall, hailed Mr. Stephenson for his contribution to the growth of the company and for his decision to continue in this new role. He stated “we are extremely appreciative of his decision to serve the company in this important capacity. I very much look forward to working closely with Mr. Stephenson to continue strengthening the governance of the company and to position us to take on major new growth and investment opportunities.”

In welcoming Mr. Williams to the post of Chief Executive Officer, he stated “The board and I are absolutely confident that Mark brings the right mix of leadership, vision, expertise, accountability and teamwork to the role of Chief Executive Officer and we expect the company to do very well under his direct executive leadership”.
